CITY TAX LEVY CUT TWO CENTS

Council Refuses to Sanction Increased Salaries of Appropriation For City Park

RATE FOR 1922 53 CENTS

City School Levy Shows Net Increase of 5 Cents. But Polls Are Omitted For Next Year

The city tax levy was fixed at 58 cents on each hundred dollars of taxables in Rushville for 1922, a reduction of two cents compared with this year, at a special meeting held for that purpose Monday evening.

The city school tax levy, on the other hand, shows a net increase of five cents, which is a net increase of three cents for schools and city government. The county tax will be fixed by the county council and the township tax by the township advisory board and trustee this week, so that it will be possible to determine what the total tax rate for 1922, with the exception of the state rate, will be in a few days.

In order to cut the city tax rate two cents, the city council cut out all of the added appropriations in the budget, refusing to pass it as drawn and published recently.

Increases in salary of $300 for the mayor, $100 a year each for the councilmen and $240 for the city clerk were all denied by the council although the city officials are entitled to more money than that provided in the budget because of Rushville passing from fifth to fourth class last year by reason of the city's total taxables going about seven million dollars.

The council decided, however, that this was no time to increase tax rates and all of the increased expenditures were cut out. In this group was a proposed appropriation of $3,000 to improve the city park next year.

The city levy includes as usual a levy of 4½ cents for the bond redemption and interest fund, 4 cents for street oiling and three cents for a public library. The poll tax was fixed at the same amount, $1.00.

The city school board, which has just made its levy for the year 1922, left the tuition fund at 45 cents on the hundred dollars. The special school fund tax was increased 7c, however, making it 37c, Continued on Page Seven

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 6.—The town of White Pine, a lumber camp, thirty miles east of Mille Lacs has been destroyed by forest fires which was swinging eastward over a four mile front.

All residents of White Pine and Solona had deserted the town yesterday. The situation was becoming more critical every hour, according to State Forester Cox. Solona and White Pine are about three miles apart. Loss of the building of the lumber camp at White Pine will run into thousands of dollars.

WORKERS RAISE RED FLAG TODAY

Cork, Ireland, Harbor Men Seize Vessels and Customs Buildings and Eject Officials

ARBITRATION IS REFUSED

All Factions in Ireland Are Reported to be Rushing Preparations For War

Cork, Ireland, Sept. 6—Workers in the Cork harbor seized vessels and custom buildings in the harbor today and raised the red flag, announcing the harbor will be run for the benefit of the men.

When the demands for a minimum wage were refused, strikers ejected harbor officials from the offices, and prevented pilots from boarding ships.

The majority of the harbor board is composed of Sinn Feiners and they offered its troubled workers the arbitration of the Irish parliament, but this was refused.

Troops of the Irish republican army were called out to help the police keep order although so far there has been no disturbance.

It has been suggested that the Irish troops be used to eject the workers.

Dublin, Sep. 6—All factions in Ireland were today reported to be rushing preparations for war.

The Ulster volunteers, according to a correspondent of a London newspaper, are being recruited to their full strength. Ten thousand ex-soldiers have already been enrolled and rifles and ammunition will be given out in a day or two, he says.

NEW NOTE CALLS FOR AMERICAN PROTECTION

Places Emphasis on Contention This Government Must be Included in Mandatory Question

CERTAIN CHANGES ARE URGED

(By United Press)

Washington, Sept. 6—A new note calling for protection of American interests in mandate territories has been sent to the allied powers by the United States, it was officially announced at the state department today.

The sending of the new note by Secretary Hughes was revealed exclusively by the United Press Saturday. It is expected that the text of the communication will be made public later today.

The new note, it is understood, places partial emphasis on the contention that this government must be included in the mandatory question.

Certain changes in the draft form of the mandates is designed to protect the American interests in such territory proposed in the new note. The principal change is said to be that of the open door plan for equality for the United States and all other nations that they be recognized in the draft mandate.

DAY AND COMMON LAW WIFE FINED

Sentence in Each Case Suspended Pending Good Behavior, Day Agreeing to Leave City

IS FINED ON TWO CHARGES

Charles Addison of Walker Township Pleads Guilty in Circuit Court—Other Court News

Circuit court went on this morning regardless of the election, and several defendants in criminal cases were arraigned before Judge Sparks for pleas, and fines and sentences were imposed upon pleas of guilty.

Foremost among the defendants appeared Charley Day and his wife, Mary Day, by common law marriage, each being charged with adultery, and after staying in jail for several weeks, they each pleaded guilty when arraigned.

Day was given a fine of $100 and costs and a six months sentence at the state penal farm, but when he promised to leave the city, the sentence was suspended during his good behavior.

Mrs. Day when arraigned and questioned, said her right name was Cora Logan, and upon a plea of guilty she was fined $10 and costs, and given a 30 day jail sentence.

The sentence in this case also was suspended during her good behavior.

Charles Addison appeared in court this morning and was arraigned on a charge of profanity and public intoxication. A charge of assault and battery was dismissed. The defendant pleaded guilty to each of the two charges and he was fined $1 and costs on the profanity case, and $5 and costs on the intoxication charge. The fines in each case were paid.

These charges were preferred on April 22 of this year when a whole list of indictments were returned following a Sunday spree in Walker township.

Alee Harrison, a defendant on a charge of petit larceny, appeared late yesterday and arranged his bond in the sum of $100 and he will stand trial later on during the court.

Samuel H. Colter and William W. Colter, two defendants charged with grand larceny, also appeared and arranged their bonds in the sum of $1,000 each, and no plea was entered in the case.

Gerard Goodin, Earl Hall and Glen Edwards, defendants who were all arraigned yesterday and fixed new bonds, have also filed plea in abatement to each charge, alleging that the affidavits were filed during vacation, when court was not in session.

Several civil suits were dismissed yesterday in the court, one being the case of Mrs. Rosa Griswold against the Big Four railroad, the complaint being for $10,000 damages, as the result of a crossing accident in this city, when a C. I. & W. train and Big Four engine collided at the in-

SHELBYVILLE WOMAN KILLED BY HER SUITOR

Mrs. Ora Fuller, Divorced Six Months Ago, Shot to Death by Ed Conrad Monday Night

JEALOUSY CAUSE FOR CRIME

(By United Press)

Shelbyville, Ind., Sept. 6.—Because Mrs. Ora Fuller had jilted him for another, Ed Conrad with whom Mrs. Fuller had been keeping company for several months, shot her to death at her home here last night, he told the police.

Mrs. Fuller promised to meet him at the theatre. Conrad said when he failed to find her there he went to her home and found R. Cross, another Shelbyville man, with her at her home. When she told him she was through with him, he went home and got a revolver, returned and shot her three times.

Mrs. Fuller was separated from her husband, John Fuller six months ago. Conrad was charged with first degree murder.

LACK OF INTEREST IS SHOWN BY VOTE

Indications Are Not One-Fourth of Voters Went to Polls in Special Election

QUIET ALL OVER THE COUNTY

Of Thirteen Proposed Amendments, Three Predominate in The Public Interest

The lack of interest in the special election today to vote on thirteen proposed amendments to the Indiana state constitution was very apparent by the light vote which was cast. Election officers expressed the belief that less than one-fourth of the normal vote would be cast.

In several precincts ten percent of the voters had not been to the polls at noon. Previous predictions were for a forty percent vote, but even this would not be reached, according to reports from various parts of the county.

Of the thirteen those predominating in public interest were:

No. 9—Making the state superintendent of public instruction appointive instead of elective.

No. 10—Empowering the legislature to provide for "a system of taxation."

No. 11—Empowering the legislature to establish a state income tax.

These three amendments have been the center of controversies in which political faith was disregarded, speakers of the same affiliation opposing each other on public platforms.

Former governors and Governor McCray engaged actively in the fight. McCray and his immediate predecessor, James P. Goodrich took a decided stand for the taxation amendment.

Former Governors Samuel Ralston and Winfield Durbin opposed them.

Amendment 10 would give the legislature unlimited power in matters of taxation and this was the center of bitter attacks by its opponents. The Indiana Taxpayers Protective League set up headquarters in Indianapolis and sent speakers out over the state in opposition to this amendment and to the one relating to an income tax.

The other ten constitutional changes did not occasion many controversies. There were:

No. 1—Making the constitution to pave the way for woman suffrage and prohibiting immigrants from voting until they have obtained their final naturalization papers.

No. 2—Providing for the registration of voters.

COUNCIL CONSIDERS THE ANNUAL BUDGET

Will Not Make Any Appropriations Until Tomorrow—Commissioners In Session

BRIDGE CONTRACTS LET

The county council met in annual session today to consider appropriations for next year, but none will be passed until tomorrow. At that time the council will also fix various tax rates which they have authority to make.

The county commissioners were also in session, ready to be of service to the council in answering any questions about the county budget. The commissioners had not agreed on the county tax rate for the fund to maintain roads.

The commissioners awarded to bridge contracts Monday afternoon, the Daubenspeck bridge going to W. C. and L. R. Bishop for $1,870 and the Eakin bridge to Lawrence and Ennis of Arlington for $1,150. They were the lowest bidders in each case. There were five bids on the Daubenspeck bridge and four on the Eakin.

The commissioners ordered the John A. D. Wagoner drain constructed, there being no remonstrance, and October 6 was set as the date to hearing the remonstrants against the assessments on the Moore drain (Hodge's branch).

INTERMENT AT EAST HILL

Francis A. Wolfe, 66, Former Rushville Man, Dies in Indianapolis

Francis Albert Wolfe, age 66 years, a native of this country, was buried this afternoon at three o'clock in East Hill cemetery, having expired Sunday morning at his home in Indianapolis. The services were held this morning, and the funeral cortège was driven to this city for interment. The deceased was the son of the late Mrs. Lydia Frazier, and was well known here. He is survived by a son, Francis O. Wolfe of Indianapolis, and a daughter, Mrs. Mina Starkey of Shelbyville.

URGES COUNCIL TO ACT DELIBERATELY

"Interested Citizen" Believes City Should Buy a Pumper But That It Shouldn't Be Too Large

OUTLINES HIS REASONS

Advocates Placing Horse-Drawn Equipment in Station in Northwestern Part of the City

An "interested citizen" writes the Daily Republican today regarding new fire equipment for Rushville, advocating a pumper which will meet the local requirements. He sets forth an argument in favor of a small pumper declaring the water supply is not sufficient for a large one. He also favors placing the horse-drawn equipment in another station in the residence section. His letter follows:

Former governors and Governor McCray engaged actively in the fight. McCray and his immediate predecessor, James P. Goodrich took a decided stand for the taxation amendment.

Former governors Samuel Ralston and Winfield Durbin opposed them.

Amendment 10 would give the legislature unlimited power in matters of taxation and this was the center of bitter attacks by its opponents.

The books and supplies which will be needed by the pupils of the first six grades in the Rushville schools, which will open next Monday at 8:20 a.m., were announced today by J. H. ENOUGH TEACHERS TO HANDLE ALL THE WORK

HELP TO UNRAVEL DEFUNCT BANK BOOKS

Board of Education Has so Many Instructors it Will be Impossible to Place Them All

HIGHER SALARIES OFFERED

Indiana schools will open this fall for the first time in several years with enough teachers to handle the work.

For several years past the schools have opened in some cases with less than half enough teachers. This was true especially during the war and the two school years after the war.

This year the state board of education reports that it has so many teachers that it will be impossible to place them all. The reason for this, according to Ben Burris, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, is that many places which formerly offered higher salaries have closed.

"We will have more teachers this year than we can place", Burris said. "Last year when schools opened there were not enough teachers for the common schools, and the number of instructors needed in the high schools was even greater. This year we will have to turn some away."

Burris will succeed L. N. Hines as state superintendent of public instruction. Hines will become president of the state normal school, succeeding Dr. W. W. Parsons, resigned.

WORKERS RAISE RED FLAG TODAY

Continued from Page One were in Dublin today showed no signs of uneasiness, but reports came in from the hills of drilling and marching being carried out by large bodies of Sinn Fein soldiers.

Predictions were being freely made in Dublin today that war will be in full swing within ten days. Many are still hopeful of peace.

Meanwhile, behind the scenes a big effort to win over Ulster was being made. The recall of Sinn Fein leader O'Duffy from Belfast was seen as a step in connection with this move, for O'Duffy's remarks had not been calculated to calm the orangemen with a conciliatory mood.

It was agreed that once again a crucial stage in the negotiations had been reached and all eyes were turned towards Scotland where the British cabinet would take the first of a series of highly important decisions that were to determine peace or war.

Gas and Subs

The disarmament conference to be held in Washington in November may result in the limitation of armaments and the reduction of standing armies. If it accomplishes no more than these two things it will justify its existence.

But for the sake of humanity it should do more. It should put an end to submarine and gas warfare.

The whole world knows the horrors of submarine warfare—how even helpless women and children have fallen victims to the horns of the deep. Civilization has been set back a hundred years by their use.

The man who shoots another in the back without warning is called a coward. The submarine is no better. It strikes in the dark and murders whole shiploads who have no means of striking back.

The use of gas is another evidence of the degeneration of mankind.

In other days savage Indians burned their prisoners at the stake. They did not burn women and children.

The use of gas in warfare comes dangerously near to being on a par with burning at the stake. Its full horrors are known only to those who have suffered its agony.

Since the close of the world war gasses have been produced that will exterminate entire armies. If we have another great war this will mean the wholesale destruction of a great proportion of the male population of the earth. It will also mean that entire cities will be depopulated—non-combatants and innocent women and children falling victims to its deadly fumes. Such attacks will come from the air. The temptation to annihilate will be too great for an enemy to withstand.

Gasses and submarines should be outlawed among the nations of the earth.

The Washington conference is an opportune time for such action.

Civilization requires it and humanity demands it.

We admire the man who readily admits that there are smarter men than himself. He has reached the age where the assimilation of knowledge and wisdom is not difficult.

The question of cleaner money does not interest us to any great extent. What we want to know is when we are to get more of it.

If it be true that we pass from death into life again, why should we be afflicted with all of the discomforts of dying?

Good advice is a thing of great value that few people care to pick up.

Newspapers Proven Necessity

(St. Louis Times)

A significant story of the increasingly important part which the daily newspapers play in the homes of the American people is told in the latest statistics of the Bureau of the Census. No less significant is the story revealed in the figures showing the extent to which merchants rely on the daily newspaper to bring their wares to the attention of newspaper readers.

More than eleven and one-quarter billion copies of daily papers are printed annually in the United States, averaging one copy a day for every three and one-fifth persons of the country's total population. The circulation of the nation's 2433 daily newspapers showed an increase of 13.8 percent in the five years since 1914. Total circulation of the country's 20,431 newspapers and periodicals showed an increase of 77 percent per issue in five years. At the same time advertising increased 121.5 percent.

fore as a vehicle for bringing his merchandise before the public. These are the two indisputable conclusions which might be drawn from the statistics reported by the Census Bureau. But there are others. The American people will continue to read the daily papers and the American business man will continue to advertise in them in the days to come. A newspaper in every home should be the slogan of the American press; an advertisement in every issue might well be the slogan of the progressive business man.

3 AMENDMENTS
BEFORE ASSEMBLY

League Has Found Changes Must be Made in Order to Meet The Progress of Nations

REFERRED TO A COMMISSION

Number of Minor Changes Not Actually Involving Amendments Have Been Recommended

By HENRY WOOD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Sep. 6.—With the opening of the second general assembly of the League of Nations here Monday, the Leaguers began the reluctant task of amending the Covenant.

All hopes of the original drafters of the Covenant that it was an inspired and perfect whole that would stand unchanged the test of time, have already been shattered.

While the League has found the Covenant a perfectly workable instrument, it has also found that changes must be made in order to meet the progress of nations.

Although over a score of amendments were offered at the first general assembly of the League last November, the Leaguers took the position that it was then too early to think of making changes. As a consequence, all proposed amendments were referred to a commission composed of leading international authorities. This commission has recommended for adoption only three amendments.

The first of the three amendments recommended by this commission provides merely for the election of the four non-permanent members of the council, in such a manner as to give all the smaller nations an opportunity to have a representative on the council. The amendment provides that the four non-permanent members shall be elected for terms of four years, that two shall be elected every two years and that no nation shall be eligible for consecutive re-election. Election will be by majority vote.

The second amendment recommended provides that the Assembly shall have the exclusive right of voting the annual budget and controlling the accounts and expenditures. To prevent a small minority from holding up the budget, the latter will be passed on a three-fourths vote.

The third amendment recommended involves a serious change in the covenant. This amendment is an amplification of the famous article which American political leaders forced Wilson to have inserted for the purpose of establishing that the League in no way jeopardized the Monroe doctrine.

The original request to amend and amplify this article came from Foreign Minister Benes of Czechoslovakia.

The amplification, without changing the form of the original clause relative to the Monroe doctrine, specifies that the League shall not only approve but encourage the formation of agreements amongst smaller combinations of powers, the general object of which is to promote peace and international cooperation.

It was the formation of the Little Entente that inspired Benes to offer this amendment.

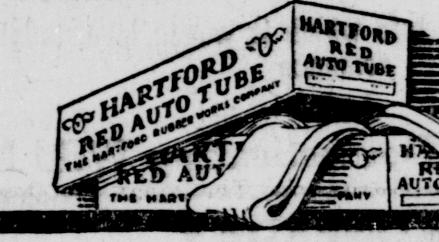

In support of the change he pointed out that the great bulk of the world's conflicts are highly local in their origin and that agreements and alliances between small groups of states enhance greatly the possibilities of world peace. The proposed amendment provides that the Council will have the right to summon conferences between members of the League for the purpose of arriving at such agreements.

A number of minor changes not actually involving amendment have also been recommended. One recommendation is that provision be made for the participation in the League of states which are too small to assume the responsibility of membership. The committee has recommended that such states be allowed to send representatives, but without the right of vote.

PHONOGRAPH? NO! TAIL LIGHTS PLAY OUT OF THEIR CLASS

A clever designer has developed a heater that has all the appearance of a handsome cabinet phonograph, yet which works like a pipeless furnace.

This new heater is now on exhibition in the store of Gunn Haydon.

To carry out the phonograph idea it is called the Heatrola. Its full name is Estate Heatrola, the heater being a product of The Estate Stove Company.

The Heatrola is fashioned like a handsome cabinet phonograph. It is, of course, made of steel plates, but these plates are finished to look like mahogany, grained like rare old wood, polished to the fine lustre of expensive furniture.

The resemblance to a phonograph is carried out all through. The front, the sides, the top, even the supporting legs, are like a phonograph. And the ornamentation is what you would expect to find on an artistic wood cabinet.

The Heatrola is so cleverly designed and built that it is more than a stove. It is a regular warm-air furnace, a pipeless furnace which will heat from three to six connecting rooms. It does everything that a furnace will do, keeping your rooms warm as toast throughout the coldest weather.

The Heatrola burns any kind of coal, hard or soft, lignite or slack. It is guaranteed to hold fire for fifty hours at one charging.

The big economy argument for the Heatrola is that it gives furnace comfort at stove cost.

Physicians are praising the Heatrola because it circulates warm, moist air continuously. This is acknowledged to be the healthiest heating method known. Air is taken from the room, then heated, sterilized, moistened and discharged through registers at the top, just like a pipeless furnace. The moisture is supplied by a white enameled vapor tank set in the rear of the heater.

Housekeepers will be delighted with the Heatrola because it is so easy to keep clean. The polished mahogany finish can be rubbed and dusted with a cloth just as other furniture is handled. No blacking, no polishing of metal, no rust. Just a beautiful finish like real mahogany, which harmonizes with the richest furnishings—smooth as glass and handsomely ornamental.

The Heatrola displayed in the window of Gunn Haydon's store is attracting a world of attention. It is such a novelty that people are talking about it everywhere. It appeals to everyone—and its legend which says: "Looks Like a Phonograph—Works Like a Furnace," is creating much comment.

The Heatrola is manufactured by The Estate Stove Company, of Hamilton, Ohio, builders since 1845 of the famous Estate Stoves, Ranges and Furnaces—Advertisement.

LABOR DAY GAME GOES 16 INNINGS

Andersonville Wins From Little Flatrock, 4 to 3, Both Teams Playing Airtight Ball

TIED IN THE 9TH AND 13TH

A game that required 16 innings to decide was played yesterday afternoon on the Little Flatrock diamonds, and the Andersonville team won out, 4 to 3, in the sixteenth frame. When the ninth inning ended the score was tied at two points, and it was again tied at three points in the thirteenth inning.

In the first of the sixteenth, Andersonville scored their winning run, and Little Flatrock was unable to tie it up again. The game was very fast from start to finish, and several double plays featured the contest. Wicker and Melcher formed the battery for Andersonville and Paul Norris and Roberts for Flatrock. Both pitchers were effective and not many hits were allowed. It was the first game this season for Norris.

Little Flatrock desires games through the week or on Saturday's with any fast team in this vicinity.

LITTLE FLATROCK WINS PRELIMINARY

Treshing Ring Team Defeats Rex Kemple's Ball Players Monday Afternoon, 6 to 3

TEAMS ARE EVENLY MATCHED

As a preliminary contest Monday afternoon to the Brookville-Rushville game, the Little Flatrock threshing team defeated Rex Kemple's team 6 to 3, in a seven inning contest that provided much amusement for the crowd, and was well played in several innings.

Each of the two teams were evenly matched, and were composed of men working on threshing gangs. The Little Flatrock team being headed by Hungerford, and the other gang by Rex Kemple.

Following the contest and before the Brookville and Rushville game, Envoy Ellis of the local Salvation army entertained the crowd with several of his circus stunts, including a demonstration of how easy it is to walk on stilts, eleven feet in the air.

After his performance, he was given a big round of applause and a generous donation from the audience.

Watching The Score Board

Yesterday's hero—Elmer Smith knocked three homers. Two helped the Indians beat the Browns 10 to 5 in the first game but the third was wasted in the second when the Browns won 12 to 8.

Babe Ruth hit his 51st homer. The Yankees divided with the Red Sox winning the first 8 to 0, and losing the second 8 to 2.

After losing the first game to the Braves 6 to 5, the Giants came back and won the second at 5 to 3.

The Cardinals strengthened their hold on third place by taking a double bill from the Cubs, both games at 4 to 3.

The Reds kept the Pirates from increasing their lead by holding them even in a twin bill. The Reds won the first, 2 to 1 and dropped the second, 2 to 1.

Brooklyn took a double header from the Phils at 3 to 1 and 8 to 4. After beating Walter Johnson 4 to 3 in the first game the Athletics lost the second struggle to Washington at 7 to 1.

Dick Kerr turned in the morning game against the Tigers at 6 to 5 but the white sox lost the afternoon affair, 4 to 3.

ANTI-BEAUTY CONTEST MAY CAUSE LITIGATION

Farmer-Congressman Asked to Retract Statements by Two Men —Love Letters Used

DEMORALIZING, HE ASSERTS

Washington, Sept. 6.—The anti-beauty contest activities of Representative Herrick, the Oklahoma farmer-Congressman today threatened to prove costly for the legislator.

An irate husband of one entrant in a local beauty contest and an aroused father of another were demanding retraction of statements alleged to have been made by the congressman and were threatening damage suits.

"Decoy love letters" to collect evidence in support of his contention that beauty contests are demoralizing were sent to "both beauties" by Herrick and then turned over to the postal authorities by the young women.

The husband, John O'Brien, and the father, C. A. Harbaugh, characterized as false alleged statements of the congressman that the wife and the daughter wrote him letters apologizing for placing his "love notes" in the hands of postal authorities. Both demand complete retraction of Herrick's statements.

Good Hard Coal Means Satisfaction In Heat

A steady penetrating heat, with your base burner requiring little attention and little shaking is what you have when Jeddo hard coal is used. The ashes should be shaken out but once or twice a day, and one or two buckets of coal in the usual winter weather will keep your magazine full.

The quality of this coal is due both to the high grade mines it comes from and its exceptional preparation. When this coal is first brought out of the ground in the small miners' cars, it is elevated into a high colliery. Here a dozen men do nothing but pick the slate from the virgin coal as it passes slowly down a long chute. That is why Jeddo coal is so free from slate.

Before the coal is loaded each size is rescreened twice to keep from running the smaller coal into the chestnut and stove size.

You will find it a pleasure to burn this coal in your base burner.

ends of four inch mains. This can be authenticated by the fire chief or the superintendent of the city plant, who knows every inch of our system from an engineering point of view. It appears to be good practice to only sum up conditions as they really are and to act only on this basis. I say buy a pumper and buy a good one, but do not buy one larger than your available sources of water will supply.

This is based on facts derived from an impartial investigation of all facts. Keep the present horse drawn equipment you have and move the present fire fighting outfit up in the northwest section of the city and place it in charge of two of the paid force. Place the new pumper at the present stand and leave the chief with the other paid men at the old stand. This will increase your overhead expenses very little and will give the city ample and quick service in case of fire or when the streets become impassable which they do at certain sections of the year in outlaying parts of our city.

It is agitation that brings good results very often, but agitation of any project not based on sound reasoning is likely to produce bad results. Therefore let our council take their time, and get all the facts before they act officially in this very important matter for our city in the matter of fire protection.

AN INTERESTED CITIZEN.

TWO WOMEN, 3 MEN MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT

Five Standing in Front of One-Room Bungalow in Evanston When They Are Wounded

SHOTS FIRED FROM AN AUTO

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Two women and three men were wounded in a mysterious shooting on Lovers Lane Evanston, shortly before midnight. The five were standing in front of a one-room bungalow occupied by the two women when an auto roared by, the occupants discharging several shots from a shotgun.

Miss G. B. Dow, a school teacher and Miss Minnie Maheoek, an art student, who were the most seriously wounded, stated they had been annoyed recently by two men, whose names they did not know. They had complained to the Evanston police. The authorities advised the girls to arm themselves and they carried two loaded revolvers in their hand bags.

As they neared their bungalow, which they used for a summer cottage, Miss Dow said she looked back and saw the auto occupied by two men coming after them. They ran to the gate of their bungalow, where William Hesketh, Harold and Henry Cohrs, friends of the two women, were standing.

The women hid behind the three men. As the auto passed by a man leaned forward and shot five times.

The two women although wounded by the slugs from the shotgun, returned the fire at the fleeing auto.

All of the injured were taken to the Evanston hospital. While their injuries were pronounced serious by physicians, they said they would recover.

cents, however, making it 37 cents, in order to meet some outstanding obligations during the forthcoming year. The school bond tax was made four cents, which is a reduction of two cents compared with this year, making the total 86 cents, or a net increase of five cents.

Although the school tax was increased, the poll tax was omitted for 1922, which will make a saving for taxpayers. The school poll tax this year is 50 cents for the special school fund and 25 cents for the tuition fund.

"Children of Night" to Open

A story by Max Brand, the noted writer of fiction, has been produced as a screen attraction by William Fox and will open an engagement at the Mystic Theatre on Wednesday. The picture is entitled "Children of Night", and has the stalwart William Russell as its star.

Much is promised for this play as entertainment of a high class, and both the reputation of Max Brand and the standing of Mr. Russell appear to justify the claims put forth. It is not a "western", but a story of city life—of high finance, high society and criminal enterprise. It gives the star abundant opportunity to fight for his life—and film followers know how Russell can fight.

"One Man in Million", the Robertson-Cole superspecial release starring George Beban, was enthusiastically received at the Mystic Theatre yesterday where it was shown for the first time. The story is an excellent drama generously sprinkled with humor. It was written by Mr. Beban who also produced and directed it. Quite a record in the cinema world. An excellent cast supporting Mr. Beban includes Helen Jerome Eddy, Irene Rich, Lloyd Whitlock, George Williams, Jennie Lee, Wade Boteler and George Beban, Jr. "One Man in A Million" will be shown again tonight.

"Paying The Piper" Coming

The fourth and perhaps greatest George Fitzmaurice Paramount picture, "Paying the Piper", by Ouida Bergere, will be the attraction at the Princess Theatre for two days commencing tomorrow. This posseses the same meritorious points that have placed the Fitzmaurice productions of "On With the Dance", "The Right to Love" and "Idols of Clay" among the best pictures recently produced.

The theme of the picture is based on the thought that in the mad scramble for wealth, people are blind to the finer things of life, and that the world of possession does not bring enduring happiness of contentment. The principal characters are finally regenerated when, through the loss of their riches, they realize that real living is not measured by dollars and cents.

Besides Miss Dickson, the cast includes Alma Tell, Rod LaRoque, Robert Schable, George Fawcett and Reginald Denny.

The personality of Roscoe (Fatty)

Arbuckle, the noted Paramount comedian and star, is so distinct and different from that of any other legitimate comedy star that it might be said Mr. Arbuckle's pictures are a brand new kind of comedy, unlike any that has ever been shown on the screen.

Mr. Arbuckle's latest Paramount picture is a screen version of James Forbes' famous stage play, "The Traveling Salesman", and it will be shown at the Princess theatre for the last time tonight. In Mr. Arbuckle's hands, this colorful role is remarkably effective. Mr. Arbuckle vests the part of the fat, jolly drummer with a humor that is at once rare and relishable. Betty Ross Clark, a charming actress, is his leading woman.
